

What economic word is used to describe things that people want to buy?

Demand

People who buy things at stores are an example of what?

Consumers

What are products from another country called?

Imports

When goods or services are available to buy, it is called what?

Supply

People who make things for others to buy are called what?

Producers

What do you call goods or services that are sold to another country?

Exports

Do things cost more or less when supplies are high?

Less

Does demand go up or down when prices are low?

Up